PANCREATIC
CANCER
ACTION
NETWORK[®]

Thank you for your interest in the Pancreatic Cancer Action Network (PanCAN).

Pancreatic cancer was claiming the lives of individuals diagnosed with the disease at a staggering rate in 1999. Five-year survival was at just 4%. For patients, caregivers, friends and family, there seemed to be no place to find answers, not enough funding to fuel research and few people paying attention.

The PanCAN community came together to change all that – giving all those facing pancreatic cancer a way to fight back. Twenty-five years on, PanCAN is at the center of a vibrant, diverse community that, together, has been the catalyst for every moment of extraordinary progress realized for this disease.

Your involvement with PanCAN means that together, we'll be able to deliver better outcomes for all those who face pancreatic cancer today and all those who will fight this disease tomorrow.

Be a PanCAN Advocate

PanCAN is a unifying force for the pancreatic cancer community to bring your message directly to Capitol Hill. Anyone, anywhere can participate and take action year-round. Your members of Congress want to hear from you. With your voice, you'll urge Congress to increase the federal investment in pancreatic cancer research, ensuring scientists have the resources to accelerate discoveries and improve outcomes.
